n or down? Witness .- Up. ME CALDWELL, -The chairs were along side each other, the screens were up and you could see that Mr. Rosels chair did not touch the complainant yet you cannot tell us whether the latter struck the coulie and Mr. Rose with a stick or with an

Witness -I cannot say which. MR. CALDWELD .- Did you see the Parage's hat

Witness .- No. Ms. CALDWELL - If the chair did not strike or push against the complainer, why did the latter strike the grolle? Why did he strike Mr. Roec! Witness .- I cannot say why he did it, but I saw MR. CALDWELL .- Do you not think it very extraordinary that a gentleman should begin caning people in the street without provocation? Wi ners.—I can only say that hadid it. I cannot explain his motives. It seems extraordinary.

MR. CALDWELL .- "Ind Mr. Rose at the time an umberella in his hand? Wilness.- I cannot say MR CALDWELL - Your chairs were close to each other and the screens up, yet you cannot say whether the defendant had an umberella in his hand or not? Witness.—No. I cannot say. MR CARBURELL Let me ask you once mot why should the Parsee have struck the coolic and Mr Rose if all things happened as you describe them to have done? Witvess .- I do not know. MR. CALDWELL. - Did you bear any conversation between the parties !

Witness, -- No. Magistrate.—If you were as close to defendant as you describe yourself to have been, you must have heard any conversation that took place.

Witness.-When Mr. Ross's coolie was struck his chair stopped, whilst mine went on a few yards. I turned round and saw MR. Rose struck. It was all done in a few seconds. MR. CALDWELL .- The road at that point is rather wide. What space was there between MR. Rose's chair and the scaffolding? Witness. There was room for two chairs to pass between. YUNE PAR SING. - MR. Rose's leading chair

coolie began to explain what was said between his master and the complainant, the conversation taking place in English, but as this good natured coulie could not speak that language, for repeal the words used; the Magistrate cautioned him to be more careful as to the testimony be offered to the

This salutary advice had however no effect upon YUNG PAK for he continued telling so many mpossible and contradictory things that the court concluded to discard his evidence altogether, as nanifestly unreliable. YUNE SAM LAY the second coolie got through his evidence a little better than his chair pariner. He said the chair did not touch defendant. The Parses struck YENE PAR SING three times with a cane because the latter called out" Get out of the way" rather too loudly. There were three chairs abreast. The Parsee aimed a fourth blow at By defeniunt.-Ilad come from the burial ground without stopping. Was not going fast at the time the assault occurred. One of the three chairs had slacked astern so that at the moment it would appear as if only two chairs were going. My Mr. Culdwell .- Chair did not strike Parece. Parage was ahead of the chair and about four latter was shoul of the chair and in the way but only have got out of the way by walking faster. Magistra's, - Have you talked this matter well

Over with your partner? Witness .- I have never snoken to him about ti Magistrate. Then there is a most remarksh a coincidence in the phrases you both have used in By Majistrate. - Did not see a soldier. Knows Mr. Gardnes. He was one of the party. Ho

Ma. Caldwell addressed a few words to the given there could be no doubt but that an assault side was marked by great discrepancies. He would not say that MR. GARDNER bad stated what he anew to be false, but he certainly seemed to be labouring under some great misapprehension in this matter. The second coolie had perhaps the chair at the time, coupled with the fact that the leatures from Mucho to Hongkong are sadly let instant at 8.30 P.M. was called in and found any reasonable provocation and he hoped the complainent on a couch with the left half of his Court would inflict a commensurate penalty.
